

We decided that a visit from Argon was not the right model for St Georges' children to share their thoughts and feelings. Based on their commercials we suggested the format of a TV news programme - the children were very excited by this and St George's News - SGN! was born

Andy said: